

JIN WANG

Wang Jin is a conducting professor and choral director at the School of Music, Shanghai Normal University. She is also the Artistic Director of the Shanghai International Choral League (SICL) and the BG Chamber Choir, and Vice President of the Shanghai Choral Association.

In the field of education, she was a professor at the Shanghai Conservatory of Music and a guest conductor of the Shanghai Opera Choir. She is a regular judge at major choral competitions in China and internationally.

She is a leading expert in choral music and has received international recognition for promoting the study of the history and future of Chinese choirs. She is a key voice in research on the development and trends of choral music in China.